Jacqueline Emerson is a multi-hyphenate actor, singer and writer, known for her acting work in THE HUNGER GAMES (Lionsgate), WINTER SPRING SUMMER OR FALL (Paramount), SHERIFF COUNTRY (CBS), HIGH POTENTIAL (ABC), GOOD AMERICAN FAMILY (Hulu) among many others. She has performed with the LA Opera, IAMA, Theaterworks and EST/LA (Ovation Award Nominee). This past fall, she starred in the world premiere of the play, "I'll Give You My Heart" at the Colony Theater in LA, and she will be making her Off-Broadway debut in "Ordinary Girls" at the York Theater in 2027. Jackie has also lent her voice to projects for Dreamworks, Bethesda, Disney, Netflix and Amazon. As a writer, she has a development deal with Critical Role to turn original IP, THRESHER, into a feature film, comic book, and TTRPG - the pilot of which filmed in Manchester last year. She has sold two films to MPCA, and has an original romcom, FORGET A MOON, in development with producer Zanne Devine and director Anna Mastro. She also recently completed a rewrite of the original musical, THE INDEPENDENTS, with music by the Oscar-winners behind KPOP DEMON HUNTERS, and will be starring in her own original movie musical filming 2027.
