A passionate actor who has been performing from a young age. I have always felt confident to talk to a large audience, performing makes me feel on top of the world! Particularly, when I can show off my creative approaches to roles. I enjoy creative projects; I have explored making stop motion frames, this has given me creative autonomy, building on my story telling skills, as well as my patience to bring lifelike qualities to inanimate objects. I am now looking to widen my portfolio and task myself with new challenges, that allows me to be more versatile and excel at a variety of roles.
